Evidence of Success of Best Practice-Health Awareness

1. Introduction:

The college's recent health awareness initiatives have been highly praised by the university, government, and local authorities, receiving awards and recognition. Their Blood Donation Camp alleviated local shortages, while sanitizer production and distribution improved hygiene and helped prevent COVID-19 spread. The COVID-19 vaccination survey provided valuable data for refining health strategies, and Red Ribbon Club sessions enhanced understanding of HIV/AIDS. These efforts have motivated both students and villagers in tribal and hilly regions, demonstrating a significant positive impact on community health.
